The Water Situation Serious.

The amount of water in the reservoir Thursday was slightly increased over that of a week ago. There has been a gradual increase for several weeks, but the amount of water flowing into the reservoir is greatly decreased. It is only by the most rigid economy upon the part of citizens, that we can hope for the necessary supply. Superintendent Kneisley is giving the reservoir close attention.

Dysart & Co. He is prepared to make harness of all grades, from the finest to the cheapest and will guarantee his work to give entire satisfaction.

Mr. W. A. Pence, of this place, met with what might have been a very serious accident last Saturday. He was returning on horseback to his home, in the Southern end of town, and in crossing the railroad the horse stumbled and fell, throwing Mr. Pence to the ground. His one knee was bruised and he was shaken up considerably, but was fortunate in escaping without having any bones broken. The doctor was called and rendered medical aid, and on Monday morning he was greatly improved.

Mr. Phillip Williams, son of Mr. Wm. T. Williams, who graduated last June among the first of the class in the Law School of Washington and Lee University, has been admitted into the old firm of Williams & Bro., Attorneys, Woodstock, Va.

Mr. Williams is a great grand son of Phillip Williams, who was Clerk of this County for fifty four years, and a great nephew of the late Phillip Williams, of Winchester, Va. who was one of the leading lawyers of the State.

Since last seen here the author has been hard at work on that always excellent play, "Old Farmer Hopkins," and the result has been wonderful. Those who were fortunate enough to have seen the comedy when last presented here, will scarcely recognize it so great is the change. The best of the old has been retained, yet the many new scenes, incidents, situations, etc. that have been added virtually makes a new play out of the famous old comedy. Mr. Davidson has surrounded himself with the strongest company obtainable, and carries all scenery, mountings and mechanical effects for the perfect production of his play. The musical part of the performance is a feature. A worthy entertainment such as this will be well patronized.

MAN IS RESCUED BY GIRLS.

The heroic work of two Shenandoah county girls who rescued their escort from drowning when he fell headlong into the tidal basin on the Potomac river at Washington, Monday.

Miss Anna Tinsinger, of near Mt. Jackson, and Miss Hilda Snarr, of Tom's Brook, are visiting at the home of J. W. Lohr, a Shenandoah county man, now living in the capital city.

When Mr. Titman, who hails from North Carolina, suggested a walk over to the tidal basin, he little reckoned what was in store. Reaching the place, the boats for hire along the wharf proved too tempting and arrangements were made immediately for a short trip in one of the row boats. Mr. Titman paid the boatman for both hire and the boatman left to attend to other matters. Hardly had he departed when Mr. Titman made a misstep and fell into the deep water. He was not able to swim, and the young ladies rescued him from what might have been a fatal plunge.

CLOWER—CONNER.

The home of the Rev. J. T. Huddle, of the Lutheran Church in Washington, D. C., was the scene of a quiet, yet beautiful and impressive wedding when Miss Myrtle Gertrude Conner, of Zepp became the bride of Mr. Harry Clarence Clower, of Jadvyn. The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock Monday evening in the presence of several relatives and friends of the bride. The bride is the charming and pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Conner, of Zepp. She is also a popular school teacher and last year had charge of the primary department of the Pleasant Grove Graded School. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Clower, of Jadvyn, and is an extremely popular and successful school teacher, he has lately been chosen principal of the Stauntonville Graded School, having been principal for the past two years of the Zepp Graded School, in which place he has many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Clower will spend some time in Washington, Baltimore and other cities, and they will reside near Jadvyn, where Mr. Clower has this summer built a new house. Perfect happiness and success is the sincere wish of their best of friends in this community.

Miss Moore Married.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Moore, of Portland, Ore., have issued cards announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Donna to Mr. Sam'l Keim Fisher, the marriage took place at their home Tuesday September the twentieth. Until a few years ago the family resided here where they have a host of friends who will join in best wishes for the happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Fisher.

Church Notes.

The annual Rally Day services will be held in the Methodist Church of Woodstock next Sunday, beginning at 9:45 A. M. There will be an attractive program, consisting of short addresses, recitations and special music. An orchestra of several pieces will assist in the pleasure of the occasion. All the members of the Sunday school and congregation are urged to be present, and a cordial invitation is extended to the general public.

The pastor will preach at 11 A. M., on a subject appropriate to the occasion.

There will be service at Pugh's Run School House next Sunday at 3 p. m. Preaching by Rev. R. L. Fultz.

Rev. J. H. Cooley will preach at Oak Levels Sunday at 10 A. M., also at White Chapel, at 8 P. M. all are invited.

Rev. J. H. Haley, of Strasburg, preached a sermon to the Odd Fellows Lodge of this place Sunday afternoon in the Methodist church.

Services were held in the Methodist, Christian and Episcopal churches morning and night, conducted by the pastors.

Rev. S. T. Ruffner, D. D., of Front Royal, Va., preached his last sermon for the summer, in the Presbyterian Church last Sunday night.

With the first Sunday in October the Pastor, Rev. P. D. Stephenson, D. D., will resume the duties of the pastorate; a full attendance is desired on this occasion as matters of importance will be considered after the services.

Harvest Home Service was held in the Reformed church Sunday morning. The church was filled with members and friends of the congregation, and was tastefully and beautifully decorated with fruits, grains and plants of all kinds. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Barley preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

Kindergarten.

The "Louise Pollock Kindergarten" will open Monday afternoon Oct. 3rd at one o'clock, in the Shenandoah National Bank building, room No. 1. For further information apply to the teachers.

Misses Mary Beall Walton and M. C. Grabill.

Social Items.

The Misses Walton entertained the S. S. S. Club at their home on Muhlenberg street, Friday afternoon.

Invitations have been issued by President and Mrs. Howard J. Benchoff for the first reception of the season to be held in Lantz Hall Friday evening September the 30th.

Stories that recall the old home among the hills, the silvery brook, the sloping woodland, the wide-stretching meadows, the fragrant hay, and the curious doings of the old folks and the farm hands, will never lose their interest. Such a story is told in the play "Old Farmer Hopkins." A sweet clean delightful touch of rural life. Absolutely perfect in its scenery and presentation. It is a sermon, a song, a poem and a picture combined, not only enchanting while you listen, but lingering with as a pleasant memory for many, many days. Lantz Hall, on night only, Oct. 7, 1910.

Otis Drummond Gets Two Years.

Otis Drummond the nineteen year old school teacher, who was indicted by the September Grand Jury on four counts for forgery, was tried on two of the counts in the Circuit Court last Friday, found guilty and sentenced to two years at hard labor on the public roads of the Commonwealth. The jury was out about 30 minutes.

On the Ninth of July young Drummond forged the name of Supervisor J. D. Harpue to a check for $12.00 which he gave to Mr. Louis Kneisley, of Edinburg, in payment for a pair of $3.00 shoes receiving the balance in cash. Mr. F. H. Brumbaek attorney for Drummond, made a hard fight to prove an alibi for the young school teacher but Commonwealth's Attorney William Pennington had a preponderance of evidence against the young man.

Judge Harrison, after hearing a few chancery matters on Saturday, adjourned court for this term. The docket was quite a lengthy one and most business was disposed of. One or two common law cases will be tried at the special term to be held the 10th of October.

List of Conveyances.

F. S. Tavener, special commissioner, and Kate B. and B. G. Hupp to Standard Lime and Stone Co., near Strasburg, 14 acres. Paul Miller and J. L. Miller to John L. Miller, Ashby District, 57 acres. James B. Singhas, etc. to Kate Holtzman, Davis District, 148 acres. W. S. Irwin to Willie Fitzwater and wife, Madison District, 143 square poles. John S. Hoshour, trustee, to J. L. Wisman, Woodstock, Lot 183.

House Blown Up By Dynamite.

A mass of broken and twisted timber and destroyed foundations is the result of the second and successful use of dynamite upon the home of Jacob R. Seakford, of Nokesville, Page county.

Seakford was formerly a justice of the peace. Later he became a prominent prohibitionist and later on ran on this ticket for the legislature. It is alleged Seakford made many enemies while administering justice by his outspoken temperance views. A flaming notice in a disingenuous handwriting, and accompanied by the usual skull and crossbones, was the first sight that met his gaze when he began an investigation of the dynamites' damage. The notice was terse and told Seakford if he was not careful he would meet the fate of the demolished building.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brill.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brill died Tuesday night at the home of her son Mr. Jno. Bauserman near town.

Mrs. Brill was 81 years of age and had been married twice, a widow of the late Wm. Brill, of Cedar Creek. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Isaac Harris, and Mrs. Godlove, Messrs. John Bauserman of near town and Chas. Bauserman of Overhalls, Nebraska.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning, after which her body was laid to rest in Cedar Creek cemetery.

Pastor Indorses Taft.

Indorsement of the administration of President Taft was contained in the sermon Sunday night of Rev. Zed H. Copp, pastor of Bathany Presbyterian Chapel. Not only did Mr. Copp voice his own praise of the President as a man and as a public officer, but he urged the need upon every true patriot of indorsement of Taft rule, which he characterized as ranking with that of Lincoln and Washington in integrity, unselfishness and national concern.

Rev. Mr. Copp spoke from the subject: "Needs of the Hour," and he held his sermon under four general headings: The needs of the hour, he said were four-fold—city-wide, nationwide, worldwide and soulwide. Among the city-wide needs, Mr. Copp listed a committee of 100 on moral reform to aid the police in preventing moral infantile paralysis; a course of homemaking taught in the public schools, with a view to the prevention of divorce, desertion, child labor and other evils attendant upon unhappy marriages.

Perry Foreman Ends Life.

Martinsburg, W. Va., Sept. 24.—A telegram received here tonight from St. Louis announced the death by suicide of Perry Foreman, formerly a prominent citizen and city clerk of Martinsburg.

Mr. Foreman shot himself through the head at his home. He was 68 years old and survived by his widow and five children. He was a native of Jefferson county, West Va. and a member of a prominent family. He was widely known in this section.

Two Murderers are Electrocuted.

Pink Barbour, convicted of murder in the first degree on July 22d at Harrisonburg, was electrocuted early Saturday morning in the electric chair at the state penitentiary. Barbour shot and killed James M. Lee, on July 4th while in a drunken fit, and at the trial, and even up to the time of his execution, the negro slayer denied all knowledge of committing the deed. Lee was a well-known resident of Harrisonburg, and had been engaged in the livery business for some time. He was 60 years of age.

Archer Brown, a white man, from Staunton, was electrocuted in the penitentiary Friday for the murder of Perry Hoy. The crime was committed in Staunton several months ago. Brown fired at Hoy with a shotgun and in range was a small child of Hoy's. (Both were killed. Brown confessed the crime.

Front Royal Indicted.

Luray, Va., Sept. 24.—The town of Front Royal has been indicted by the Circuit Court of that county, Judge T. W. Harrison presiding, for maintaining a nuisance in permitting the streets of that town to remain in an unsanitary condition. One count in the indictment recites that the officials have not taken proper precautions to prevent contamination of the town's water supply.

It Saved His Leg.

"All though I'd lose my leg," writes J. A. Swensen, of Watertown, Wis. "Ten years of excruciating pain, that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me out. Then Buchen's Arnica Salve cured it, sound and well." Infallible for Skin Eruptions, Eczema, Sale Rheum, Boils, Fever Sores, Burns, Scalds, Cuts and Piles 25c at Schmitt's Drug Store.

Madstone Clings 15 Hours.

Luray, Va., Sept. 23.—In the rampage of a mad dog in this county on Wednesday a daughter of H. M. Kaufman was terribly bitten, and a madstone from Loudoun county was applied to the wound. The stone adhered 15 hours.

At intervals it was removed from the wound and the water in which it was immersed became green.

SHENANDOAH LIVE STOCK SHOW, OCT. 13-14

The First annual Livestock Show will be held on the Fair grounds Wednesday and Thursday, October 12th and 13th. Although the company was just organized last week considerable interest is manifested in the enterprise and a livestock show such as has never been seen in Shenandoah county is promised.

Mr. M. M. Fravel, one of the best known farmers and horsemen of the Valley, is President, and Mr. G. K. Coffman, president and treasurer. Mr. Coffman has opened his office, to receive entries, in the Koontz Building, next to the Geary Hotel, and has already received eight entries in the trotting, pacing and running race. See next week's paper for list of prizes and railway rates.

The chief attractions for the show are trotting, pacing, running, and hurdle races by some of the best horses in Virginia. A ladies' riding class has been arranged, prizes being given to the winners in all these classes. Heavy draught horses of all breeds, such as the Shenandoah Valley is noted for raising, will be exhibited, besides all kinds of cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry. A prize list has been arranged for exhibits. A grand tournament, in which some of the best riders of this and adjoining counties have entered, will be held the first day of the show, with a coronation ball at night.

A baby show will be given and prizes will be awarded to the prettiest and fattest babies on the grounds.

In a written opinion, given a few days ago, Judge T. W. Harrison, of the Circuit Court of Frederick county, soundly flays both Mrs. Nora Virginia Orndorff and her husband, F. Summers Orndorff, a local school teacher and poet, who was sued for divorce. In dismissing the bill the court, among other things, says: "Neither seems to have sufficiently considered the duty each owed to the other upon entering into marriage. He was guilty of great misconduct, and his palsy, too, in kicking his wife on one occasion and in bringing criminal charges against her on another, takes a microscopic power of vision into humor to appreciate. On the other hand the wife has shown little disposition to please or accommodate herself to the wishes of her husband. She had been too ready to abandon her home, when a stronger sense of duty should have held her. She owed him love and obedience and tolerance, and I cannot say she has measured up to this. The home is still open to her, and if she returns to it and the doors are closed upon her then the court will grant her relief." Mrs. Orndorff's action and her husband's cross-bill were dismissed with costs against the husband.
